Copyright: 1892 By The Tribune Association. London, July 18.-There is no foundation for the statement which has been going the rounds of the that the Prince of Wates proposes to attend he Austrian autumn manocuvres which are to take place in Hungary in September. The Prince is going early next month to Homburg, and will return to he is going to Scotland on a long visit to the Duke and Duchess of Flife at Braemar,

PRINCESS VICTORY MELITA'S BETROTHAL.

It is probable that in the course of the autumn the betrothal of Princess Victory Melita, of Edinourgh, and the Duke of Augustenburg will be officially sourced. The Princess will not be sixteen until next November. The Duke, who was born in 1863. is a nephew of Prince Christian, who is his heir, and a brother of the German Empress and Princess Fredthe Royal Family through his mother, the Duchess of Augustenburg, Princess Adelaids, of Hobenlohe, when Emperor Napoleon wanted to marry in 1852, through her first marriage with the Prince of Leinen-The Duke owns a large estate in Silesia and an allowance of about £16,000 a year from the

PHINCE ALEXANDER OF PRUSSIA.

One of the most frequent companions of the King of the Belgians in his Ostend walks is a militarytocking man, who bears such an extraordinary resemblance to the late Emperor William of Germany that everybody turns to look at him. On the Flemish own as Count you Tecklenburg, but he is in reality Prince Alexander of Prussia, first consin of the creator of United Germany. He lives in perfect incognito at Villa Alice, with a small but congenial suite. Although Prince Alexander is very wealthy, he enjoys the amusements of the coast sans facon, and takes most of his meals unrecognized restaurant of a cosy little hotel known as Namurdd

ROYALTY AT THE RIVIERA.

It may seem rather early to think about the season on the Riviers, but I heard the other day that the Kings of Sweden and Saxony, who spent several weeks at Mentone last winter, have both made definite arrangements to return there and have bespoken rooms at Cap Martin Hotel,

THE LADY SIMPSON EPISODE There is no foundation whatever for the statement made in a contemporary that the Lord Chamberlain has had to undergo an excessively unpleasant gauvals quart d'heure in consequence of the Lady Simpson episode. This is pure invention. Lathern bad no mauvals quart d'heure, as he was to no way responsible for this unfortunate episode. nor was any blame attributed to him by the Queen

DANGING YOUNG MEN AND MAIDENS. Several large dinner parties were given both on Inesday and Thursday evenings, the guests afterward proceeding en mass to the balls given by Lady Relper and Lady Penrhyn. The fashion of ball-giving, the hostesses enlisting the services of their friends to din and bring on contingents of dancing young men and is evidently growing in popularity.

MR. BALFOUR'S PORTY-PIFTH YEAR. On Monday next Mr. Arthur Ralfour, First Lord of the Treasury, will enter upon his forty-fifth year.

Mr. Gladstone's Cabinet is to be limited, if possible, to fourteen, and according to his present intentions neither the Minister of Agriculture, the Postmaster-General, the Secretary for Scotland, nor the Chief Commissioner of Works will be included in it. Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Bryce, Mr. Campbell Banner-man, Mr. John Morley, Mr. Trevelyan and Mr. Shaw Lefevre are to be in the Cabinet, but a dead set is beade by some of the wirepullers against Lord Ripon, Mr. Stansfeld, Mr. Mundella, and others of the old gang. Mr. Herbert Gladstone is to be Financial Secretary at the Treasury, a place to which a salary £2,000 a year is annexed, and it has the immense advantage of not involving re-election. A report obtam Harcourt will get a peerage and be made Lord ian Government, Lord Cole ridge retiring with promotion, Lord Herschell bes Chief-Justice, and Mr. Campbell Bannerman leading the House in Mr. Gladstone's absence. Mr. John Morley does not like the prospect of being Chief-Secretary for erally believed among those are behind the scenes that he went to Dalmeny last week for the express purpose of making an urgent request to Mr. Gladstone that he may be given either the Home, the India or the Colonial office. Aberdeen is new hauging back from accepting the Lord Lieutenancy, and If he does cor to go to Dublin, it will be through the influence of wife who is very anxious for him to do so. the Earl of Aberdeen however fluxliv declines, he will probably be appointed secretary for scotland; and led Carrington, who is clamorous for a Cabinet office, will be the new Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. A very smart thing in the way of driving was acemplished last week by Mr. Tiffany, an American, who is a great enthusiast in conching. Mr. Tiffeny has had a couch built in exact imitation of the old English mail conches. It is very light and so con-This coach made structed as to run very smoothly. is trial trip last week from Paris to Trouville, and distance, about 130 miles, was covered in ten minutes under eleven hours, Mr. Tiffuny having three companions in addition to the guard and only stopping to change horses at the place appointed. This is the fastest drive on record; but, though it may be very pleasant to be able to boast of having beaten the record, one does not quite sac what is the good of driving a coach at this headlong speed.

NAMES OF THE CUNARD STEAMERS.

Some curiosity has been exclied as to the raison Petre of the names Campania and Lucania given to the new steamships of the Cunard Company now building at Fairfield. According to the traditions of the ard Line every name must end in "ia," and Campania and Lucania were not heathen divinities, as has ictually been stated, but two great southern provinces of ancient Italy. Campania was the district of which Naples was the capital and included all the lovely scenery of the rich country down to Passtuo. South of that came Lucania, stretching from sen to sea, rutiming up to the highest point of the Apennines and

The 14th of July brought M. Pablo de Sarasate, the logion Honour. Amongst his fellow-nominees was M. Rochard, director of the Porte St. Martin Theatre, but the latter figures on the list not as a member of the profession, but as a veteran lieutenant of infantry, BETRAYED BY HIS BICYCLE SHOES. THEY LEFT PECULIAR PRINTS IN THE DUST AND THIS LED TO THE THIEF'S ARREST.

Joseph Delph, a seventeen-year-old colored boy, acquaintance because he was the possessor of bleycle, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Madden and Sloane, of the Nineteenth Precinct. He is the son of the faultor of the Studio Building, No. on The artists occupying the building hav for a year been missing articles of clothing and lewelry. The police were sent for, but they were unable to prevent the robberies or detect the thief In the last month over a dozen complaints of rol bery have been made to Captain McLaughlin, and Detectives Madden and Sloane were detailed on the case. They learned that the following artists who have studies in the building had been robbed: John Walters, J. Clarence Butler, Miss Ward and Mi-Harvey. The office of "The Christian Alliance? had also been entered, and money and clothing had been that the doors had been opened with false keys. Deppa, the junior, was above suspicion, as he has been employed in the building a number of year-His son James was not suspected until the detective entered the studio of J. Wells Champney. He has been in Peris for six months, but when hi Wells Champney. udio was opened it was discovered that some one who had on low-heeled shoes, such as are worn by prints from such shoes could plainly be seen in the dust on the floor. On learning that young Delph rode a blevele, the detectives arrested him on suspicion His shoes were found to fit exactly the footprints in Delph at first dealed all knowledge of the robbery but finally confessed and told the detectives where ! had disposed of the stolen property. The detective visited a number of pawn offices in Sixthave, and discovered a diamond ring, which was identified by Mr Butler; a fur robe, which Mrs. Harvey identified, and a pair of opera glasses, stolen from Mr. Waters. Delph was remanded at Jefferson Market Police Court yes terday until to-day.

MR. DIXEY IN OPERETTA.

Mr. Henry E. Dixey's friends crowded Palmer' Theatre last night to encourage him in his new un dertaking. In organizing an operetta company at placing himself at its head. Mr. Dixey is returning to an old love. Audmin's "Mascot," too, is a work in which he won favor years ago, before he entered upor that unique career in which he won so marked a suc Whether or not he has been well advised in his selection of company and operetta might be ques tioned, in view of the many crudities in last night's "The Mascot" is a delightfully ingenious comedy, and its music is good enough t warrent good singing in all the parts and chorus, and good playing by the orchestra. Mr. Dixey could not hope to lift the musical side of the role which he assumed, that of Prince Lorenzo, into prominence, but the peculiar charm of his fun-making atoned there, and had all his associates reached even a modest standard of excellence his popularity, the favor in which the operetta stands and the small expectations which the public indulge in the dogdays, would have combined to yield moderate success Unhapply the company, which contains some admirable talent, acted and sang as if it had but a vague not on of the nature of musical comedy, and had been too hastliy drafted into service. D'Arville formed perhaps the only exception, but ever she did not reach the real measure of those gifts which have occasioned such genuine pleasure in other works. Mr. Pruette, who is her musical associate, displayed such a superabundance of affected pathos that it marred work which he is able to perform His contribution to the diversion of the evening well. His contribution to the developin of the examination was largely maintenational. In the second act his singular costome and bearing (more suggestive of a circus controllonist blan anything cise) evoked frequent outbursts of appliance. Mr. Fred. Lennox's impersonation in Rocco appealed wholly to a sense of incompruity. His studies were evidently made in swanzey, N. II.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

An excellent fencing contest between Regis Sence and his son, Jouis R. Sence, was added to the programme at the Casine Reof Garden last night. Binns and Burns also appeared for the first time in a musical specialty. The Damrossh Orchestra at the Madison Square Garden will devote this evening to symphony music. To-morrow evening being given over to the Grover Clevsland reception, the "Wagner night" will be postponed until Thursday. The roof garden performance will take place as and to-morrow.

Mrs. Pemberton Hicks has been engaged for the leading contraits part in "The Fencing Master," the new opers by De Koven and Smith, in which Miss Marie Tempest is to appear next season.

A SYRIAN WEDDING AT DUTCHESS JUNCTION.

Newburg, N. Y., July 18 (Special).-Dutchess June tion, across Newburg Bay, recently had a unique oriental wedding. There is a Syrian settlement at the place of about eighty men and some fifteen twenty women. The former work in the brick yardand the latter peddle trinkets in the surrounding country. The bridegroom was Hanna Hajj, and Mars Luttz was the bride. Both are Syrians. twenty-one years old and good looking. The marriage ceremony was performed by a Coptic priest, the Rev Abraham Bashuty, who came from New-York for th occasion, bringing with him as a guard of honor five prominent Syrian merchants of the city. Forty candles were lighted, emblematical of the number of years that the happy couple had lived. After the redding they were greeted with a discharge of fire rms and music on Syrian instruments. There were bout 309 persons present. A number came from

CONDITION OF GEORGE WILLIAM CURIIS.

There is not likely to be any change in Georg William Curtis's condition for some time. Dr. F. 6 Curtis said yesterday that he would return to hi home, near licston, to morrow, but would come back to staten Island to attend the second consultation of his father's physicians. He did not expect to be summoned for several weeks. Mr. Curtis rested rather but there has been no appreciable change in the fre-quency or severity of the attacks of pain. THE LONG WOOD TOURNAMENT.

OPENING DAY OF THE GREAT TENNIS STRUG-

GLE-PLAYERS FROM DISTANT STATES. Boston, July 18 [Special] .- Fair weather, perfect courts and an enthusiastic audience favored the opening day of the second annual tournament. Fifty-two mea are entered in the singles and everything points toward an exception-ally satisfactory meeting. An element which lends unally satisfactory meeting. An element which remay usual interest to the tournament is that the most clever players from Chicago and even from as far West as the Pacific Slope are among the entries, as well as many of the Eastern cracks. C. P. Hubbard and J. Tobin are nere from California, while S. T. Chase, the champion of the West, and Quincy A. Shaw will represent Chicago. One of the closest matches of the day was that between P. GOOD WORK IN THE DOUBLES BY YALE MEN

The invitation handlenp tournament of the Knicker backer Tennis Club was continued yesterday afterno on the club's courts, at One hundred and forty first st and Brook-ave. The weather was exceptionally favor able for tennis, and the players apparently appreciated this, for in many of the matches the playing was of a high order. In the ladies' singles Miss Collard, of the Jersey 6217 Lawn Tennis Club, again defeated her opponent with considerable case. The surprise of the surnament has been the clever team and individua play of two Yale College men, Burchard and Lock wood, of the Norwalk Tennis Club. The odds which Paret and Fischer, the scratch team, were require concede to this team yesterday were too heavy, and they were beaten in two straight sets. The Yale me defeated Thurber and Stevens, whom they me in the second round.

The courts of the Yonkers Lawn Tennis Club we bronged with speciators yesterday afternoon, who can witness the challenge match for the championship o he Hudson River Lawn Tennis Association, by Valentine G. Hall and Carmon R. Runyon. Hall have held the handsome silver challenge trophy, which repre-sents the championship for two years, and another vic-tory this year would have made it his property but he did not appear to play yesterday afternoon, and the match was given to Runyon, the challenger, by de Hall was injured early this spring while riding baseback and has been unable to practice much. The result is noticeable, for he was defeated last week Texedo by Larned, and has not been playing nearly up to his usual form. He sent word yesterday, therefore that he had not been able to practice enough this spring to get into condition for a severe contest.
